County Voters Mark Record Ballot Count

80 Per Cent Of Voters Turnout To Unseat Holders

An all-time record number of voters turned out Tuesday to register the largest vote ever recorded in Contra Costa County.

With a total number of registered voters of 180,410, approximately 80 percent of them voted. This marks an unofficial total of some 152,660 voters.

THE LARGEST numerical total was reached in the 1952 presidential elections with 140,000 voters that gave a percentage figure of 87.68. Then Governor Earl Warren, commended the county for its huge turnout at that time.

It was a bad day for incumbents in Contra Costa County as hopefuls to office swept through to almost decisive victories at the polls Tuesday.

With some 3300 absentee ballots to be counted in the county, including absentee ballots drawn Tuesday morning in Richmond and Martinez for persons recently hospitalized, several contests could well be in question.

THE BALDWIN-JEWEL congressional race could well be decided in the absentee ballot with only 2000 votes between the two.

Walter Young leads the incumbent Sheriff Harry Brown by a comfortable 1713 votes with 869 of 869 precincts in the county computed in an unofficial tally.

In the third supervisorial district, Tom Coll, Concord City Councilman, leads incumbent Ray Taylor by 1726 votes with an undetermined number of absentee ballots out.

Floyd Marchus of Walnut Creek appears to be the next Contra Costa County Superintendent of Schools with his 10,000 vote margin over Ralph Harris of El Sobrante. The final total in that race was Harris, 58,348; Marchus, 67,151.

BROWN RACKED up 65,886 while Young garnered 67,599.

Baldwin including Solano County, Contra Costa County and three precincts in Alameda County totaled 90,375 while Jewel whipped up a total vote of 88,031.

The race for assemblyman, 10th district followed in the general trend of the statewide elections with a Democrat getting the largest number of votes.

Jerome Waldie of Antioch dumped Republican Sam Conti of Clayton Valley 47,142 to 38,115.

THE CENTRAL COUNTY area, however, balked at the rest of the state's action and gave its nod to all of the republican candidates, including William Fife Knowland for governor.

In other areas, Betsy FitzGerald Rahn took an early lead, which was never relinquished, to win the judgeship of the Walnut Creek Judicial District and become the first woman judge in the county.

Totals of 153 precincts out of 154 indicate her lead over C. Terence Ring to be 1494 with an undetermined number of absentee ballots still to be counted.

The ballot cast was Rahn 12,791 and Ring 11,297.

Another incumbent had troubles at the polls in the Concord Hospital District. Judge John Garaventa was apparently unseated in his bid for reelection to the board by Thomas Meehan. Total's there showed Garaventa 11,493; Meehan 11,688.

JOHN WHALEN, incumbent board member led the pack with his 13,308 votes.

These figures are totals of 140 precincts out of 155 precincts.

Garaventa was swept out of office in the June primaries by Lou McKanney, who will take office as Concord Municipal Court Judge January 1, 1959.

Transit District Bond Proposal Defeated by Vote

Contra Costa County voters Tuesday turned down a proposal of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District asking for $16.9 million in bonds.

The issue, needing a two-thirds majority to carry in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties, took a Contra Costa beating of 29,969 YES votes to 39,995 NO votes.

Out of 2,318 precincts in both Alameda and Contra Costa counties with 2,205 precincts reporting, the total ballot cast for the issue was 174,506 in favor and 137,989 against.

This figure represents 453 out of 458 precincts in Contra Costa County added to the total Alameda County vote.

JUDGE STANLEY Mosk was given almost 50,000 votes more than Pat Hillings for attorney general. The score: 93,832 to 43,672.

The State Board of Equalization post for this area will be taken over by William Lynch who netted some 12,000 votes more than James Quinn. The totals in this contest were Lynch 74,534 to Quinn's 62,115.

Governor Goodwin J. Knight didn't fare very well in Contra Costa as Clair Engle dumped him 54,731 to 85,368.

IN THE MORE controversial state propositions, Contra Costa voted down 16, 17, and 18 along with the rest of the state.

For tabulation of the state propositions see separate story.

Cty. Bonds Voted Down; Plan Given

As election officials tabulated by how great a margin county propositions C and D lost, Desmond Teeter, county administrator presented an alternate plan to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors in Martinez.

The final county tabulation for propositions C and D was:

C Yes 39,525	NO 65,792
D Yes 39,501	NO 66,756

TEETER PROPOSED that the Board of Supervisors impose a special levy of five cents on the tax rate next year and every year thereafter until the county's needs for building are met.

Proposition C proposed that $1.2 million be bonded for the purchase of county buildings now being leased and D proposed for $1 million expansion of the county's administrative building in Martinez.

Teeter informed the supervisors that his proposal would net the county some $376,000 additional monies per year.

TEETER COMMENTED that the rejection of the two issues was a mandate of the public to pay for them through general county funds on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

The issues needed a two-to-one margin to pass, but lost instead by a two-to-one margin.

Big Crowd Is Expected At Library Dedication

Dedication ceremonies for Orinda's beautiful new $115,000 library, made possible through the contributions of many different organizations and individuals, will be held at 8 p.m. today.

"We hope this will be a real community-wide affair," said William Fleager, dedication committee chairman. "If just those who have contributed attend, we'll have a huge crowd.

"I know all Orindans will be proud of the library made possible by their gifts of time and money."

KEYNOTING the evening program will be Dr. James D. Hart, vice-chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, who will deliver the dedication address. An open invitation to attend the ceremony has been extended by the dedication committee.

Construction of the new 4800 square foot building was made possible by funds raised from voluntary contributions by the Library Building Committee, spearheaded by Perc. S. Brown, Library president. Building committee chairman was George F. Hauerken.

The new redwood-concrete block building, with a distinctive butterfly-type roof, is located at the corner of Irwin Way and San Pablo Dam Road on an acre and a half of land donated by the Orinda Association.

DESIGNED BY Aitken and Collin, well known East bay architects, the plant has exterior parking space for approximately 40 cars and a fenced rear-service yard with provisions for bookmobile loading. The exterior grounds are being landscaped through a contribution of time and money by the Orinda Garden Club.

A feature of the dedication will be a display by the Orinda Art Center of paintings of Orinda scenes. Pebble art by local craftsmen will be on display in the patio, and there will also be an exhibit of paintings by Jade Fong, San Francisco artist, and Eugen Simon of Orinda, and silk screen work by Mildred Simon.

Prominent local and county figures who have accepted invitations to attend are:

W. G. Buchanan, supervisor, Cort Coolidge, Richmond librarian, Mrs. E. A. Dawson, pioneer Orinda librarian, Arthur Flint, president of the Orinda Association, Ivan T. Goyak, supervisor, Dr. George P. Hammond, director of the Bancroft Library, University of California.

Mrs. Bertha Hellum, county librarian, Mrs. Sarah K. Malinowski, Orinda librarian, Joseph P. McBrien, assistant county administrator, Mel F. Nielsen, supervisor, Desmond Teeter, county administrator, E. Carlton White, president, Council of Contra Costa Library Organizations.

TOO YOUNG TO TANGO is this little bit of kitten-life, but she's not too young to look forward to the Mt. Diablo Cat Club's championship show, to be held tomorrow and Sunday at the National Guard armory, Walnut Creek. Bonnie and Brad Blackmore of Walnut Creek sympathize with the "little one," for they have a lot of growing ahead of them, too. Incidentally, this is National Cat Week. —Sun photo by Richard Morse

Grading Contract For School Site Awarded by Board

The lowest of seven bidders, Gallagher and Burke, were awarded the contract for grading and drainage of the Inland Valley School site at a meeting of Orinda Union School District trustees Monday.

Their bid was $132,000. It was accepted subject to approval by the State Allocations Board.

Mrs. Eleanor Silverman, associate publisher of The Sun, presented the district with a check for $81.75 to be used for playground and other equipment. The sum was raised through a circulation drive recently conducted by this newspaper.

SUPERINTENDENT Joseph Sheaff announced that total enrollment is now 3,007. The number of students at each school: Del Rey, 731; Glorietta, 584; Orinda, 478; Sleepy Hollow, 656; Pine Grove, 558.

E. G. Nicholas, curriculum director, presented a handbook prepared for parents, "Your Elementary Schools." It was prepared by the Education Administrators Council, and school staff with cooperation of the board.

Nathan Gray, board president, thanked those who had helped on the project.

Mrs. Florence Rossi, art instructor, was approved as a delegate to the Pacific Art Association Conference in Asilomar this weekend.

Plans for landscaping Sleepy Hollow school grounds were presented by Theodor Osmundson, landscape architect. The board made no decision on whether grounds should be landscaped.

SHEAFF WAS asked to attend the meeting of the State Allocations Board in Los Angeles Thursday.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday to open bids on the Glorietta addition. It will be the third time bids on the addition have been submitted. Previous ones were higher than the amount approved by the allocations board.

A contract for $8100 for grading the Glorietta site was signed with Gallagher and Burke, previously declared low bidders. Work is expected to get under way next week.

Miramonte High Sign Burns; Game Is Cancelled

The burning of a sign at Miramonte High School resulted yesterday in the cancellation of the Miramonte - Acalanes football game to have been played tonight.

Principal James Lewis of Miramonte reported to the Contra Costa Sheriff's Office that the large "Miramonte High School" sign in front of the school had been burned down sometime Wednesday night.

ALSO, LEWIS reported that a large "A" had been placed with lime across the street from the school on a hill.

Under league rules, if vandalism is committed at a school prior to an athletic event, the event is concelled.

There is a way, however, Lewis stated, that the game can be played and that is to have the culprits give themselves up to school officials before noon today.

The Junior Varsity game, which was to be played yesterday afternoon, was cancelled.

The Varsity game was to be played tonight under the lights at the Acalanes field.

The value of the sign was placed by Lewis at approximately $150.

EBMUD Directors Express Thanks For Re-election

Louis J. Breuner and Harold W. Saunders, who were re-elected as Directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District in the November 4 balloting, today expressed their thanks for "substantial majority vote by which we were returned to office."

Breuner, who is the EBMUD President, has served two prior terms on the Utility District Board. Saunders was appointed to the Board in May, 1957, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late Thomas S. Neilson.

Both incumbents affirmed their campaign pledge to further the best interests of Utility District voters in EBMUD financial affairs, water rights and other policy matters.

Supervisors Have New Look Now

A familiar face in the Contra Costa County Supervisorial Chambers will be missing January 1 if election returns in the official canvass prove Thomas Coll of Concord to be the new supervisor of the third district.

Returns now indicate that Ray S. Taylor, 16 year member of the supervisorial board and a Martinez resident, was unseated by Coll in Tuesday's elections.

THE UNOFFICIAL TALLY is Coll, 20,660; Taylor 18,934. Sixteen precincts have not been included into this figure, according to James Olsson of the County Elections Department.

Taylor lost on his bid for reelection in both Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, but carried by a narrow margin in the Saranap precincts of the Third Supervisorial District.

In Pleasant Hill, Taylor lost out by 4,543 to 3,341 while in Walnut Creek it was 4,077 to 3,880.

Saranap went for Taylor 1,281 to 1,394.

BUT COLL'S WON'T be the only new face on the five member board. Jim Kenney, one time mayor of Richmond, will take the seat of Ivan Goyak, retiring supervisor.

Kenney beat out Guy Savage of Pinole for the first supervisorial seat.

Current members of the board are W. G. "Bud" Buchanan, senior member of the board, Pittsburg, IV district; Mel F. Neilsen, elected November 1956, Lafayette, II district and Joe Silva, elected November 1956, Brentwood, V district.

IN ALL, THERE will be a lot of new faces around Martinez next January.

There'll be John Nejedly, district attorney, elected in June; Coll, Walter Young, taking Sheriff Harry A. Brown's office; Kenney. In Sacramento there will be Jerome Waldie, new assemblyman 10th district taking Don Doyle's job.

These new men will take office unless the absentee ballot and the official canvass change unofficial results.

Holdover is (and the same conditions prevail) John Baldwin, congressman, sixth district).

Other new faces are Betsy FitzGerald Rahn taking judge Clifford Thomson's bench at the Walnut Creek Judicial District and Floyd Marchus taking over B. O. Wilson's job as county superintendent of schools.

Child Poisoned By Castorbeans; Parents Warned

David Matzinger, 6½, of 3374 Reliez Highland Road, Lafayette, is a patient at Children's Hospital of the East Bay because he peeled castorbeans with his teeth. He is the fourth "castorbean case" that the hospital has had in less than a month.

The attractive — but deadly — beans were on the ground at a nearby house. Plants on which the beans had grown had been cut down. But a few beans were left. David found seven. He broke off the hulls and began peeling.

"I wanted to play chemist with the beans," David said. Chemistry was on his mind because he had just visited the laboratory at the Mountain Copper Co. Ltd. in Martinez, where his father, Charles Matzinger, is a chemist.

DAVID WAS LUCKY. He apparently did not swallow much of the poisonous substance and his mother took action before he had time to becoome ill. When Mrs. Matsinger realized that David had been putting the beans in his mouth, she rushed him to Children's Hospital. There his stomach was washed out and he was put to bed.

"If a child is not treated in time, he may die as a result of eating castorbeans," doctors at Children's Hospital of the East Bay state. They are urging parents to educate their children not to put plants or flowers in their mouth.

CASTORBEANS are the seeds of the castor oil plant. "For many years, the oil has been used in medicine, printing, dyeing, and machine lubrication. Since the beginning of World War II chemists have found many new uses for castor oil and its derivatives. These products are now in extensive use for the manufacture of paints, plastics, rayon, textiles, nylon, hydraulic and recoil fluids, special lubricants, flexible coatings for electrical equipment and many other special items," the U. S. Department of Agriculture states.

Castor oil used for medicinal purposes is obtained from seeds by processes not adaptable to home use. And the raw oil is extremely irritating if taken internally.

"The oil can cause perforation of the bowel, hemorrhage, loss of fluids with resulting extreme dehydration, collapse, and death," the doctors state.

Exchange Student Drive For Funds Brings In $1300

Thanks to the generosity of those who gave and to the dedication and hard work of Miramonte High School's American Field Service Club, the drive for funds to carry on the exchange student program in Orinda has brought in over $1300, according to Mrs. Tom Mika, and funds are still coming in. Heading the drive were Sandra Brown, club president, and Jack Doty, vice president.

Although the Orinda A.F.S. Committee is pleased with the fine response to the drive it is their hope that money will continue to come in until enough is available for three scholarships for next year, these to include scholarships for Orinda students to go abroad as well as foreign students to come to Orinda.

Approximately $650 is needed for each scholarship. Anyone who was not contacted is urged to send his contribution to Mrs. Charles Erickson, 31 Donna Maria Way, Orinda.

The A.F.S. Committee is grateful for the assistance of Constable Clint Jones and his men; and to Merle Brown, manager of the American Trust Company for his assistance in counting and depositing funds collected the night of the drive.

Community Helps Garden Club On Library Project

Landscaping of the grounds of the new Orinda Library is the latest project of the Orinda Garden Club. On Monday the work of the actual planting began. All members of the Club are participating, with some members donating the services of their gardeners for the heavier work.

Under the supervision of Mrs. J. M. Rodwell, the members have all worked in shifts this week. When the planting is completed they will have the double satisfaction of having beautified the grounds and slenderized their figures as the same time. This will have been accomplished by the kneeling, bending, lifting and digging.

THE GARDEN CLUB Library Planning Committee, headed by Mrs. Woodburn K. Lamb, has decided that planting the entire site at one time is more economical.

Plant materials are being made available through the Moraga Nursery. Robert Waschmirth of the Nursery is giving his time to help with the delivery and the proper placing of plants and trees.

Warren Detloff donated his rototiller and his services for the rototilling of the grounds previous to the landscaping.

Orinda Hardware has donated hoses to be used for future maintenance.

Orchard Nursery has made available all peat moss and fertilizer to be used in this planting program.

THE ORINDA LIONS Club contributed funds for the purchase of trees.

There have been several donations received from individual donors. It is the hope of the Garden Club that others will also help financially. Those interested may contact Mrs. W. H. Mordy, 42 Los Altos, Orinda, chairman of the finance committee.

By Dedication Day, despite aching muscles, blisters, broken finger nails, the Garden Club members hope to see their project completed.

At the last meeting held at the Orinda Country Club, a talk on "Fun With Fall Gardening" was given by Mrs. Robert Tuckey of Marin County, well known lecturer on gardens and floral arrangements.

Delegate Reports Safety Confab Highly Successful

By ROSE HAWKINS

At the governor's annual Traffic Safety Coference held in the state capitol in Sacramento in October, delegates met the people who have worked so hard for a lower traffic accident death rate. The rate is now 5 per cent under last year.

This rate can be cut still more as the programs resulting from this conference are implemented. An example of this is the behind-the-wheel driver training program, the law for which was passed in 1953 as a result of the Governor's Conference.

Also, there is a new guide for safety teachers and a seminar for teachers. A center for teachers in advanced safety study was established this year through the Department of Education.

THIS YEAR great emphasis was placed on the hope of training more teachers for the behind-the-wheel driver training program and for the driver-education classroom program in the high schools. The program now starts in tenth grade, but due to the shortage of properly trained and accredited teachers and the lack of sufficient driver-training cars, many students do not receive the benefit of this safety program before graduating.

At the end of the conference several resolutions were passed that would lead to improvements in the behind-the-wheel driver training program in the high schools.

At a panel discussion of traffic safety problems involving seventh, eighth an ninth graders, emphasis was placed on teaching these youngsters to "drive your bicycle,' thus bridging the gap between driving your bike and driving a car.

IT WAS pointed out that attitudes towards safety develop at junior high age. There is an inadequate educational program now in intermediate schools to develop positive attitudes towards safety of oneself and others.

A resolution was passed that the intermediate safety program be implemented through curriculum, teacher training and student council guidance to help students develop proper behavioral attitudes.

The key to the prevention of some accidents was hinted at in a combined meeting of the Medical and Industrial Transportation Divisions where Dr. E. P. Owens of Consolidated Freightways spoke of their medical standards with regard to hiring truck operators.

DR. OWENS pointed out that their minimum age for a transport operator is 25. Of the men they have, two age periods have a larger percentage of accidents. Operators between 25 and 30 have 27 per cent of the accidents and those 40 to 45 have 24 per cent from all causes.

They have psychological screenings on prospective drivers which detect emotional trends and eliminate persons not adjusted for driving.

They frequently test vision of drivers in the 40 to 45 age group, since they are rapidly changing in vision at this age and require greater illumination. They also have certain audiometer determinations. Electrocardiograph testings are also made to detect certain diseases, also blood pressure tests and glucose tolerance tests.

All aspects of traffic safety were gone into thoroughly at other workshops in the course of the conference—the judicial aspects, enforcement, traffic engineering and armed forces problems.

THE APPLIANCE SECTION of Jackson's Furniture Company in Walnut Creek is all new, John Harrison, appliance manager, seems to be saying. Ray Gorman, store manager, officially opened the new portion of the Broadway Plaza store recently.

Robertson Studies In Mexico City

In the land of ancient archeological ruins and ultra-modern architecture, Douglas Alden Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Robertson, 832 Solana Drive, is studying at Mexico City College for the fall quarter.

The institution, whose motto is "Wisdom-Peace-Brotherhood," is the only American-type liberal arts college south of the Rio Grande and awards B.A. and M.A. degrees.

After graduating from Acalanes High School in Lafayette, Robertson attended Diablo Valley College in Concord. As a student at Mexico City College, Robertson is gaining an idiomatic mastery in Spanish and is becoming acquainted with the customs of the country.

Modern, bustling (5 million) Mexico City is located only 15 minutes distance from the appealing site of the campus in the hills of the Nevado de Toluca which overlook the twin majesty of Mexico's most famous volcanoes, Ixtacciahuatl and Popocatepetl.

EBMUD Annual Report Has Highlights Of Year

The fiscal year which ended June 30 was one of the most significant in the 35-year history of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, EBMUD President Leo J. Breuner stated today as he released the utility's 1957-1958 Annual Report.

Highlight of the report was reviews account of the successful $252 million bond issue proposal voted by the people last June to launch the EBMUD's 10-year Water Development Project.

"We gratefully acknowledge your faith in the soundness of the expansion program," wrote Breuner, "and our ability to carry it out.

"We pledge to fulfill your trust by exercising the greatest care in the expenditure of bond issue funds, so that the people of the EBMUD will continue to share the benefits of one of the world's finest water systems."

The annual report showed that during the fiscal year, 73 miles of pipe were installed in the ground within the EBMUD service area, bringing the District total pipe mileage to 2589.

Seven distribution reservoirs with a storage capacity of 12.5 million gallons of filtered water were completed and placed in service during the fiscal year, according to the report.

These financial highlights were included in the report:

1. Total revenues of the District for the fiscal year exceeded $16 million.

2. Net value of water service plant and properties reached $145,829,356.

3. A total of $3,622,610 was expended for bond redemption and interest. This reduced the EBMUD bonded debt to $34,692,000, approximately 45 percent of the original $77 million in bonds issued by EBMUD.

4. The value of improvements, replacements, and expansion to the EBMUD water system during the fiscal year amounted to $7,024,610.

5. Total revenues of EBMUD's Special District No. 1, which provides sewage treatment and disposal service for six East bay cities, totalled $1,824,229.

6. Net value of the Special District plant and properties was set at $22,095,540 at the close of the 1957-1958 fiscal year.

Gaels To Play Water Polo

Tonight the newly formed Saint Mary's College water polo team meets the famed Athens Club in the campus pool. The Athens Club is one of the finest water polo aggregations on the West Coast, probably second only to the San Francisco Olympic Club. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Saint Mary's water polo squad consists mainly of freshmen who have never played the sport before. Under the tutelage of Coach Ron Noakes, the Gaels are probably the most unusual athletic squad in the country for their practice schedule is from 6 to 7:30 each morning while most college students are still in bed.

Fresh standout is George Saunders from Oakland. Captain of the squad and only senior on the roster is Dick Clark of Lafayette.

Methodist Fair Is Successful

The annual Fall Fair and Fashion Show held Saturday by the Lafayette Community Methodist Church, was a "wonderful success," reported Mrs. Owen W. Haskell, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, which sponsored the affair.

Refrigerator Sold To 1st Of 80 Sun Ad Callers

"I sold it on the first call, and had more than 80 calls," Mrs. Sheldon Pfeiffer of 1740 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek, told The Sun, when asked how her Sun classified ad offering a refrigerator "worked out."

Mrs. Pfeiffer had offered the refrigerator and freezer chest in good condition for $45 and was swamped with calls from Sun readers.

Ruth F. Salter of 2103 Hillside Avenue, Walnut Creek, offered her typewriter, six months old, with case for $50, sold it quickly through her inexpensive Sun classified, and received some 15 calls.

And Mrs. H. M. Richardson of 207 Babette Court, Pleasant Hill, listed a Taylor-tot and refrigerator for reasonable amounts, and the items were snapped up soon after the Sun Shopping News reached some 39,000 homes in the central county.

It costs only $1.50 to place an ad with 14 or less words in it, and the results are amazing say hundreds of our classified customers.

The ad automatically goes into the giant circulation Sun Shopping News, and also the subscription Lafayette Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun.

Those wishing further information may contact Mrs. McCaustland, AT 3-3663.

Driver Training Offered At Acalanes High School

Students at Acalanes High School will have the opportunity to become safer drivers this year by taking a course in automobile driver training.

The instruction stresses both the physical skills necessary to operate an automobile and the proper mental attitudes required for safe driving. The course is made possible by the loan to the school of a new Chevrolet by Parker-Robb Chevrolet Company, Walnut Creek. The car has been equipped with AAA dual controls supplied at cost by the California State Automobile Association.

The behind-the-wheel training supplements the classroom instruction and develops maturity and responsibility in the young motorists, says the CSAA.

S. W. Walgren, school principal, announced that John McLean is the instructor for the class.

Each student receives a minimum of six hours of actual on-the-road driving instruction. He must also complete a course in driver education in which he studies the natural and man-made laws governing the operation of a motor vehicle.

Nude Woman, 33, Leads Children Along Highway

Motorists traveling Moraga Highway, Orinda, Wednesday morning about 10:30 a.m. were shocked (or intrigued) by the sight of a nude 33-year-old woman walking along the road, leading two of her children, both nude, and carrying a third—also undressed—in her arms.

It was a warm morning, and pleasant for walking under any circumstances, according to members of the Orinda Fire Department who rushed to the scene when a "complaint" reached them.

However, they transported the woman, an Orinda resident, to her home, and conferred with her husband, a physician.

The County Sheriff's Department substation in Lafayette was notified, and deputies went to the home.

After a conference it was agreed that the woman, who reportedly had suffered an illness several years earlier, should receive medical and physchiatric care.

She, accompanied by her husband, was taken to the County Hospital in Martinez for observation.

The children's ages ranged from one to four.

Moraga School Design Praised

Because of its design, Moraga School has been visited several times by both national and state Civil Defense officials, according to Bill Ward, regional director of the California Disaster Office.

"The school has aroused considerable interest because it is the first time any of us know of that a school has been designed from the standpoint of civil defense," Ward said.

While not "blast-proof" in case of a bombing, Ward said, the school is so designed that vertical louvers on windows would help keep flying debris from knocking them out.

"Moraga School isn't the ultimate answer," Ward said, "but it is a radical change from the glass-greenhouse type of construction that's been so popular in the last few years. It's a step in the right direction and gives a very high degree of protection."

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

The Tote Board

EVEN W/A GREEN WART on the end of her nose, Mrs. Georgina Campbell of Orinda School is one of the prettiest teachers anywhere. The wart, we'll explain, went along w/her Be-WITCHing attire, green fingerpails & witches' makeup of ghastly green greasepaint at the Big Halloween School parade last Fri.

Another fetching figure, Miss Nan Christy (Christopherson) whose pumpkin on a black felt skirt were tacked on only temporarily, a nifty idea, so the skirt can change whatever the occasion. Miss Margie DiLonardo of the Music Dept. caused whoops of hollers in her get-up as HIAWATHA and Miss Mary Louise Waltz was a funny fat ol' Cowboy, the kind who eats too many buckwheats for breakfast. Padding, of course! The kids' costumes were ingenious, a variety, originality! Betsy Brock in odds & ends of old clothes & big shoes looked reminiscent of Jackie Coogan in The Kid. Everybody did a double-take on Jerry Kirby thinking he was Somebody's Young Mother. He ambled around so at ease on those patent-leather pumps! Molly Poupenoy & Marian Long were two mothers who treated the young tricksters to the ghostly goings-on in the HAUNTED HOUSE in Berk., sponsored by Children's Hospital.

IN THE LONG LINE-UP outside the old house at Cedar & Henry Sts. (it was originally built by an old sea captain), we saw Colleen Simmons & her three . . . Kitty Gillivan emerged laughing from the Chas. Addams Chamber of Horrors in the basement wondering if any of her 8th grade girl guests were missing. Barry & David Usinger, Johnny Poole, Katie McDonald were some of the youngsters going through the coffin & cobweb caverns. It was foolish & ghoulish, but even the adults loved it!

By Popular Vote—The Bloomer Girls!

IF YOU THOUGHT you saw Bloomer Girls cavorting over the Country Club greens Oct. 30, you did! The Can-Can cuties just happened to be a lively quartet of golfing gals from this yr.'s Hustle Bustle Party. Copping first prize in their white ruffled percale underpinnings were Jean Downs, Donna Skaggs, Joyce Carter & Ruth MacIntyre. In their beribboned ponytails & pantaloons, even at 8:30 in the morning, they managed to look like dewy-eyed young girls.

Themed this yr. to the 49-ers, the dining room where members gathered early for fizzes & food was decorated w/theatrical posters dating back to that era, well, not QUITE! A sign over the bar denoted that this was the setting of "The Silver Nugget" saloon.

JUST INSIDE THE DOOR, we struck Gold! An outstanding rock collection was displayed, courtesy of Ruth Noble, who along w/her husband Merle, is an avid devotee of digging for the rare ones up & around the Mother Lode country where they were bound, by the way, last wknd. Among the specimens, a goodsized slab of Mariposalite, only found in certain regions here & valued to rock fanciers throughout the world. Ruth telling that she once swapped a chunk of same rare rock for ponderous pounds of Jade. So as a hardrock Miner, Ruth in her getup & gear, got A-plus for authenticity. And to say the least, we enjoyed what we learned. Even promised we'd have more respect from now on for the rocks in the pockets of our moppets who save them in egg cartons in closets throughout the house!!

A COMICAL TRIO of Miners in their long winterweights were Lafayettans Jerry Carter & Marian Brooks who paired w/Joan Calder & Ann Graffis to parade in their pink & chartreuse woolens. Helen Federighi, whose costume always matches her sense of humor, came as the Saloon owner, resplendent in striped vest, green eyeshade, sleeve garters, a tobacco pouch poking out of her rear pocket as were the faces of four Aces. Accepting the honor for her group, she let go a loud blast on her whistle calling Fireman friend Enid Tanner & black-whiskered Francis Donovan to share in the prize doled out by golf pro Pat Patton who served as MC in the garb of a natty gambler.

A Brief Reign for the Sack

Under a set of red whiskers, Millie Cutting. MORE red hair, beard & brows for Betty Bergen, a grizzled prospector, her knapsack loaded w/frypans & foofaraw getting her the Gayest Single to win applause from the judges.

AND THE SACK DRESS finally came in for recognition—this one, an old-time Sperry Flour sack, printed burlap yet & donned by Dorothy Taylor who as Annie Oakley w/rifle, buckshot & birds, walked away as Most Original. Another prize-winning foursome, The Miner, Forty-Niner, His Daughter Clementine & their two burros. Comprising THIS, Kitty Dade, Pearl Hayes, Babette Parrish & Irene Waddell.

After costume awards, this bouncy crew of sports & good golfers tossed down their orange juice, coffee cake & coffee & headed for their Golf Game. Someone asked Jean Downs if she was 27 . . . Thinking they meant her age, the pantalooned one came back w/a beguilding "No, I'm just 19!" But the inquiring party looked slightly chagrined! What they WANTED to know was her Handicap!

LAUGHTER RANG clear, applause long for Emily Kimbrough when she spoke on being "Forty-Plus & Fancy-Free" at the Claremont recently during the dessert-lunch hostessed by the San Rafael Military Academy Mothers Club. Among mother-members in the throng, all who have sons enrolled there, were Jean Smith, Dorothy Reilly, June Merriam, Virginia Hunter. At Jean's table, Virla Krotz & Kitty Schwarck, Mary Dorr, Harper Wright, Dorothy Bowman. Dorothy Reilly's sister-in-law Roni Kentfield was up for the day from her peninsula home. Glimpses of Dorothy Parnham, Cappy Champion, Virginia Fish all obviously enjoying the speaker's diverse ditties. Which doesn't necessarily mean ANY of the above are "Forty-Plus".

Another County to be Heard From

AUTUMN IN NEW YORK . . . The Frank Newmans left for a Knickerbocker Holiday last Tue., He one of the chief speakers at the Centennial Conference of the Columbia Law School. For them, a busy schedule. to incl. 3 Broadway plans, one of them the Opening of Eugene O'Neill's "Touch of the Poet".

Russ Usinger recently returned from a 6-wk. business trip that took him to Ireland, Germany, Rome & Holland where he bought a Dutch Girl outfit for his jeune fille Janet.

THE WOODSY GARDEN of the Ernest Fernsten home adapted itself artistically to the recent Exhibit Tea sponsored by the Orinda Art Center. Greeting arrivals were Muriel Ray, Elcve Keresey, Betty Lindsay & Tea Chrmn. Cindy Quinn who had a painting of a garden setting in the Adult Art Exhibit. Just inside the door, bumblebees (not real ones!) buzzed among the fall floral bouquets arranged by Bill Seifert, the Flower Man. At the tea table, set w/silver & pastel patisserie confections, were Ellie Dodge, Helen Harrer . . . Ellen Leftwich in a dark paisley print, her feathered wig-hat in matching orange & brown tones . . . Linda Robinson, Dance Instructor, coming up the path . . . Trudy Cook, Marian Farmer, Jean Weirick having coffee in the family room where Martin White's photos of the Dance groups were displayed.

CHARTER MEMBER Doris Fraser who teaches the paint course, PROUD of her new adult students, some who are taking to painting for the first time & amazing even themselves! Praise for a Still Life in delicate salmon tones by Irene Hickcox. Young Wendy McBane's floral pastel among the children's art.

IN THE GARDEN, the Fernsten's "Farmyard" up above on the hillside, painting a real-life pastoral picture—the horse, chickens, rooster & dogs joined by a pair of stray white pigeons that just flew in for decorative purposes. The hostess Doris pointing to her new garden addition, a handsome iron frog, sitting pondside. The tuneful trickling waterfall the backdrop for the Pebble Art. Kay Ratcliff's pebble plaque titled "Peace" (two hands touching, a cross, a dove) handsome & thought-provoking. An old Moraga Barn captured on canvas by Faye Hopkins, another NEW artist. Members will provide an exhibit at the Library Dedication next Friday. Come & see the new beautiful library that night!

YOUNG LIFE, the youth organization that has been packing 100 Miramonte students into their wkly. Monday gatherings, will have a Parents Night meeting next Mon., Nov. 10—7:30 p.m., at 20 El Patio. All Miramonte parents are invited to attend, which in part, will be a typical meeting, conducted by the young members.

GRAB YOUR HAT, shake your piggy bank & join in the fun of Xmas Shopping at the Children's Hospital Exhibit Tea next Wed. 11-4:30 o'clock at the Claremont. Bring a friend who's never been, she'll love it!

Parties—all ages, all sizes, all kinds—and all fun for all concerned.

First, a bridal shower for Elspeth Evans of Danville was given by Marie Jamieson of Carol Lane. The bride's family and the Jamiesons are friends of long standing, so the 14 guests were from both generations. Enjoying dessert, opening gifts, and hearing plans for the November 15 nuptials made the evening go very quickly.

Then there was a going-away party for Bill Holmes, up on the hill above Carol Lane. He has been in the Submarine Reserve for two years, and now is in the Submarine Service for real. At present, he is at San Luis Obisp for basic training.

A SURPRISE party was held for Dianne Paulovic, down the hill on Carol Lane. She was 16 last Sunday and neighbors Barry Madrid, Mike Downey, and Don Andreasen cooked up a party for her. As is the usual case with surprises, she didn't cooperate too well on arriving at the right place at the right time (anyone who does is not suprised) but everyone had lots of fun dancing and eating when she did get there. Among those present were Nancy Hanson, Paul Arrigo, Judy Laity, Brenda Hodges, Butch Ezneker, Stan Roberti and Judy Murphy, and dates, and assorted others.

A morning coffee party was hostsesed by Connie Kieny and Marianne Zivic, both of Carol Lane. Moving counter-clockwise, saw Jo Evans, Julie Paulovic, Betty Devlin, Marie Jamieson, Fran Plath, Ruth Cusack, Phyllis Murphy, Gladys Holmes, Margaret Mayfield, Norma Repetto, Carol Hodges, Doris Madrid, Kathleen Woods, Jean Mussen, Sally Steller, Lucille Lapsley and Eunice Mignola.

Missed Anita Mitchell, who had to leave early—and on the sick list was Diane Vogel, with a sick child was Sylvia Loper, and on an important errand was Evelyn Rhine. Coffee cake and coffee and catching up with the neighborhood news—the Lapsleys are enlarging their house, spreading out sideways so to speak, the Borgwardts are adding onto their living room pushing forward and adding a marble fireplace, the Zivics have new kitchen cabinets, and Betty Devlin has a new china cupboard—a real fun morning.

A BRIDGE LUNCHEON was held at Laverne Howell's on Janet Lane with Barbara Arena, Jean McDougal, and Ava Gatzens. Besides playing bridge, Laverne just happened to mention that she had two Persian kittens one black and one calico, to give away to an appreciative home so if any of you are interested give her a call.

A charade party was given by Dianne and Dirk Vogel of Janet Lane. Besides Skip and Art Peters, Norma and Lou Repetto and we'uns, there were Ruthie and Leo Nabaros of Oakland, Tina and Al Burford, Montclair, and Maggie and Dick Perano, Walnut Creek. Because some had not played before, the subjects were to be kept simple, song titles and book titles, like "Variations on a Theme by Paganin" (song), "Deuteronomy" (book)—hah! a real fun evening.

Then there were three birthday parties for the small fry. Debbie Hanson was eight years old, and took Susan Lord, Diane Arena, Lynn Peters, Linda Messinger, and Donna Lee, to the show at her luncheon and games. The Hays had their turn at Billie Vic's sixth anniversary October 23—Scott Peters and Duke Evans from the neighborhood, Chuck Minor, Keith Nunes, Monty Mathison, Jeff Sibley, and Scott Evans from school.

His brother, Mike, helped with the apple dunking, and tail pinning. Another new six year old was David Miller of Orchard Valley Lane who had a Halloween party with presents for a mixed group of John and Paul Haynes, Becky and Terry Brown, Chrissie Carbone, Renee Maneiros and Jane Casurang. And that's the end of the parties for this week, but know of some birthday ones coming up.

THE ARRIGOS of Anita Court returned from their trip back to Fran's old hometown, Newburg N.Y., and Madison, N.J., where she and Joe lived before they came out here, and while they had a marvelous time seeing family and being entertained hourly by friends, there won't be any more jazz about how it is at "home"—California's got them. How about that sign, Joe?

The McDowells of Carol Lane sold their house last weekend and will be moving to Fresno around Thanksgiving. In talking to Joyce about their new home down there (2 baths, 3 bedrooms, wall-to-wall carpeting, draperies, family room — onward and upward), she told about the new addition to the Cece Mark family, formerly of Carol Lane and now of Sacramento—a boy, David Andrew, born October 9.

Another pioneer who put his house on the market is Bud Maynes of Orchard Valley Lane, the last of the original settlers—no one has sold on Almanor Lane and everyone has on Orchard Valley.

Kennedy to Talk At L. A. Meeting

L. C. "Roy" Kennedy, Credit Manager for the California Spray Chemical Corporation, Richmond, California, will address the 35th annual convention of the California Fertilizer Association in Los Angeles on Monday.

A member of the Calspray organization since 1937, and Credit Manager since 1950, Mr. Kennedy resides at 789 Solano Drive in Lafayette with his wife, Alice and daughter, Christie. He is considered to be one of the leading authorities on credit in the industry.

Drive carefully. Many of our roads wind through the hills, and there are many small children playing in the area. An accident coulid be tragic.

Chamber Director Nominees Chosen

Names of seven men who have been nominated for posts on the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors were reported yesterday by Ken Jensen, chairman of the chamber nominating committee.

They are Lou Repetto, Stewart Wade, Ted Barcelon, Phil Gustafson, Stan White and Bert Leavitt.

Two more will be selected Jensen said—a total of nine—to run for six directorships. Ballots will be mailed to chamber members and officers elected after new directors are chosen.

Holdover directors are Ted Stein, Marvin Turner, Bud Fuller, Chuck Sylvan and Jim Cunningham.

Directors whose terms will expire are White, Wade, Tom Lattimer, Jack Hageman, John Klass and Leavitt.

Lafayette Girl Vice President

Jackie Amis of Lafayette, was recently elected pledge class vice president of Alpha Phi, national social sorority at San Jose State College.

Miss Amis, a freshman nursing major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amis of 1018 Almanor Lane. She graduated from Acalanes High School in 1958.

Local Musician Praises Oakland Symphony Group

The East Bay is fortunate in having secured the services of Piero Bellugi as director of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra, according to Mrs. Minnie Lewis of Lafayette, former first flutist with the Arlington Symphony Orchestra.

Following the all-Beethoven program last Friday, Mrs. Lewis remarked that it was a "very ambitious undertaking, done superbly."

Lafayette was represented by Leonard Wecks, tenor soloist for the Ninth Symphony, James Lewis, first bassoon, and LuRene Mattson, harp.

Crime and Punishment-- Some Local Comments . . .

Serious consideration should be given to the matter of fines and punishment as meted out in our judicial and municipal courts.

As this editorial is being written, the results of Tuesday's election are not yet known, but it has no bearing on the basic philosophy involved.

We are not jurists and certainly are not experts in matters pertaining to the law. But we do think we are capable of recognizing a problem when it is staring us in the face.

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE. Recently a youngster, let's say he was 19 years old, was arrested for being drunk in and about an automobile. He was not driving at the time, but the report listed him as "staggering" when the officer approached him.

He became belligerent with the arresting officer, and consequently was taken to the county jail in Martinez.

He called an East Bay attorney. The attorney phoned the judge, who set bail at $25 for the youngster, and the youngster was released.

Now, the youngster paid the $25 fine and that was the end of the matter. He "forfeited bail" and no more is necessary, in the eyes of the law. No hearing. No lecture. And if his father paid the $25, it might be assumed that the youngster didn't learn much from the experience, except that he can "get off" pretty reasonably.

OF COURSE, THIS applies to adults, too. Each one of us is in danger—very real danger—when a drunken driver is on the highway. And how many times have you been badly frightened by someone in an automobile doing 80 or 90 miles per hour?

If it is a case of speeding, and it is a first offense, certainly a fine is appropriate, maybe even $50, but certainly not $5.

A few years ago The Sun carried lists of the fines assessed by the local courts, but we found that the effect was exactly the opposite of what might have been expected.

Instead of caring about having their names published in connection with their fines, many people just laughed and commented on how small the fine was. It did everything but encourage people to speed.

CERTAINLY JUSTICE must be tempered, and each case is an individual matter, but it is obvious that our punishment of this sort of offense is far too light.

Police officers in all branches of law enforcement agencies have said time and again that it bothers them to give out the kinds of tickets they do. They know that when the offender reaches court his bail will be so low as to be very little trouble, and frequently the charges are either reduced or dropped. And these comments come from the men who are on the roads and are face to face with the problems continually.

This applies to other fields besides traffic, too. Remember when a pinball machine was hauled out of a local bar? The proprietor was fined $100 and that was the end of that.

This was a man who was deliberately breaking a county anti-gambling ordinance, yet the punishment was not prohibitive, to say the least.

IT IS AN "EASY county" in this respect. It makes the situation very difficult for the law enforcement officers. They are less likely to risk their necks to enforce the law when they know that the offender will get off with a light sentence, if any at all.

No, we are not jurists. But we do recognize a problem when it confronts us. And it might be well if we all recognized it, because remember, you live and drive here too.

This makes the problem unanimous.

Children, Bicycles, Traffic And Dangerous Situations

Please Be Careful!

Chances are that you hear this sentence every day in a variety of contexts.

It is reasonable. We live in a dangerous world, although most of us never stop to think of it that way. It is dangerous to cross the street, and to paint the house, and very dangerous to drive your car.

But there is one special focal point of danger that bears consideration from all of us. It involves two potentially dangerous factors—children and bicycles.

WE ARE NOT advocating the removal of all bicycles from all children. This would be inhuman. But children enjoy themselves, and they are not always as responsible as careful adults.

Furthermore, our roads and streets are not the straightest in the world and sometimes visibility is very poor now that dusk is coming earlier.

The situation is further complicated by the curtailment in school bus services. Many more children are riding bicycles to school these days, and they are an added hazard on our roads.

They have a right to be there. It is up to the motorist to be careful. Even if the child is in the wrong, who wants to go home knowing that he is responsible for the injury or death of a youngster?

SO BE ESPECIALLY alert in school areas and while driving through our beautiful residential areas. There are youngsters working and playing on bicycles everywhere, and they are your responsibility.

The number of stories which have appeared in The Sun and other papers recently referring to bicycle accidents has increased alarmingly. We do not enjoy writing these stories, so do your part and help us avoid them.

Please Be Careful!

The Staff Corner

Well, It's All Over Now . . .

By DICK OSBORN

The rumblings will be going on for quite a while, I guess, but the issues have been pretty well decided by now.

Political rumblings, that is. There are probably a lot of gastric rumblings still being heard, mostly because of the lousy diet the campaigners have been forced to suffer.

But now that the losers are out shopping for the necessary rope with which to hang themselves, and the winners are toting up the expense accounts and sharpening the old axe, it is kind of fun to look back on some of the more humorous aspects of the fiasco.

TAKE THE SUN Candidates Night at Acalanes, for example. There I was working. (Actually, I was out in the corridor smoking a cigarette in my usual shifty fashion, but I was SUPPOSED to be working).

Well, up walks this Avid Supporter. "Boy, didn't he give 'em H---", says he, referring to last speaker.

I agreed, between puffs on my filtered vice, that the speaker had indeed given 'em hell.

Avid Supporter charged off, spewing campaign literature right and left, to be replaced immediately by Second Avid Supporter, only this guy was rooting for the other team.

"Dja hear that lousy speech," mumbles Second Avid Supporter. "If I had an armful of wristwatches, I would not give that bum the time of day."

AGREED THAT it was, indeed a lousy speech. (I don't weigh enough to defend my principals in face-to-face arguments just before election time. I agree with everybody and then stand in the corner and sneer at the whole lot).

Well, harried candidates started arriving, dashed in, delivered the ultimatum, got skewered by questions from a very active audience, and returned to the corridor, perspiring freely.

"Jeez I did a lousy job," mumbles one candidate. Just smiled tolerantly, took a campaign button to make him feel better, and turned to find his opponent approaching. First candidate left. Opponent marched up, looking at me suspiciously because I had been within two feet of rival.

"JEEZ I DID a lousy job," mumbles opponent. Smile tolerantly again, accept his campaign button, and stare off into space as if thinking of deadly editorials with which to massacre entire political crew. (Actually, was thinking of cold beer).

Next day, meet more politicians, all down-in-mouth because sure they had been clobbered on stage by opponents. Met more supporters, all convinced their boy had done and said no wrong, but that opponents were all refugees from the Mafia.

Discovered that lots of people go to candidates nights with mind entirely made up. They are cheering section for favorite son. Found that many very intelligent candidates were unable to evaluate their appearance at candidates nights, and that all were conscientious people worried about getting job and doing good job after attaining same.

Anyway, digestion is getting back to normal. Only one problem. Still have pockets full of campaign buttons and literature. Think I will mail it all back to the candidates.

Collect.

Cows Gaze Cold-Eyed at Never-Dozing Bulldozers

By MARIE MONAHAN

Where Mt. Diablo, like a stern Matriarch, watches over her booming brood of Topsy-towns that grow & grow in flotsam-jetsam fashion. . . . Where big brown cows on their big brown hills, pause to cast cold-eyed looks at the behemoth bulldozers who cut into their green pastures and do Everything but Doze!

Where the lawns are manicured, the gardens well-manured. Where little houses have big mortgages and big houses have little mortgages, and every house, no matter the size, can have a Luther Burbank garden all year 'round. At the dog & cat dispensaries, a continual parade in & out of assorted people & their pets, the fancy owners w/their fancy dogs who quaintly enough, often bear a quaint resemblance to one another.

The sudden sun on the 7 a.m. scene making it the Mad Rush in EVERYMAN'S Menage . . . The caravans of homebound heroes at five—hungry for a homecooked casserole & weary, weary, WEARY of those long & wet expense account lunches, Tho' their little women never WILL believe it.

No Tool Like An Old One . . .

Where all the tools you have belong to the rest of the neighbors & vice-versa, proving there's no tool like an old tool . . . Where you finally feel "In", you Country Squire, you, when you've gone & done it yourself . . .

Where you, who didn't know a pansy from a petunia a few mortgage payments back, can now recite almost all the local flora & fauna in tongue-twisting Latin terms . . . Where a couple of new rose bushes is MORE fun than a new hat and the golf clubs gather dust while you dust off the roses. Where the coffee pot is never OFF, never Empty, and the cookie jar is never Full!

WHERE THE WOMEN are Ageless . . . and the men, well, it's better not to guess! Where the good wife, busy w/Brownies, Bridge, PTA, is the same well-heeled gal who looks so glamorous when you entertain your office crew or take her to a party.

O little towns with lights so bright—where are they all at 10 at night? The Friday nite fad of Family-shopping at the town's Super Markets . . . Mother buying up bargains and father proudly paying up.

The camaraderie of the corner hardware store or the nice-smelling nurseries, both operating w/the genial air & flair of the old-time General Store . . . The Marchants, in the morning, soliloquizing as they study the merits of their shiny shop windows before the first customer puts in an appearance.

PRETTY PINK-CHEEKED mothers & their moppets on a run in the sun while they CAN before the rains come & claustrophobia sets in . . . The Do-It-Yourselfers contemplating their Christmas presents, "From Me To Me" . . . The sanitary & smiling Milkmen w/a broad grin for everyone, even tho' you get your cream from a competitor. Ditto the cleaner, the laundry man who offer a cheery hello just for the Swell Day of it!

How About You?

A SIAMESE CAT bringing home his bacon, a big mouse he's finally tired of teasing to death . . . A platoon of quail, rumper to rumper, eyes right, doing a fast left-flank in military precision across the country path . . . Tiny birds in a tailspinning dice after living it up High on the pyracantha berries . . . Young blonde girls, straightbacked & serene, heading their horses toward a sloping oatmeal hill.

The pastel colors of King Norman's Kiddie Land . . . Through HIS gates pass the Best Children in the World (Yours & Mine). Where those pastel-colored kids can feel SO BIG at the wheel of a Midget racer. The mauve curtain of twilight cloaking the Concord countryside, unending orchards silhouetted against the pink no-artist-could-paint-it sky. These are just some reasons we like it here. How about you?

BUS STOPS

DEAR EDITOR:

Despite the contention of the Lafayette School Board that they were not bowing to public opinion in the matter of the reinstatement of certain bus stops, I would say that the evidence is that they not only bowed to public opinion but, unfortunately, proved that only certain interests sway them.

The safety of all of the children who must needs travel down dangerous and antiquated Moraga Road was the question. Parents from Hamlin Road, Solano, South Mountain View Drive and The Woodlands as well as from the development known as Silver Springs were worried.

They all attended at least one school board meeting on the subject of bus stops. However, only one fraction was heard, apparently, and provided with not one, but two private bus stops . . . Silver Springs.

The school board had suggested to the Silver Springs group that their children travel down Hamlin to Solano and thus to school but that idea was rejected by that group because it was necessary to travel a short distance on Moraga Road to reach Hamlin Road.

So, where does that leave the rest of the children in this section? No bus stops were provided so that they might be saved from the dangers of Moraga Road, Their parents will have to continue the unsatisfactory arrangements used so far to get them to the school. For, out of the three bus stops reinstated by the Lafayette School Board, not one will serve the needs of this group of children.

PHONY LETTER

Dear Editor:

For some time I have wanted to write and tell you how much I appreciate your work as a newspaper editor. How you have been fearless to stand up for the right, which isn't easy these days.

How you have improved The Sun! If people have a complaint, they are ready and willing to let a reporter know, but I wonder how many letters you receive of praise.

Now about the enclosed letter I received Nov. 1 which I decided no democratic committee would put out at this late date or would even run a man for such high office if they felt as this letter implies.

So I called one of the names to find out. Sure enough it wasn't the democratic committee who sent out all those smear letters too late for any man to protect himself. Furthermore, this Walnut Creek man said he didn't even know his name would be used on a letter like that.

Name witheld by request.

(ED NOTE: The letter referred to was headed "Contra Costa Democrats, 802 Main Street, Martinez," and urged voters to support Goodwin Knight for the U. S. Senate.)

FOOTBALL

DEAR EDITOR:

The recent football debacle when Miramonte was slaughtered by Antioch 54-0 shouldn't have happened. Many injuries, lack of parental interest, and lack of fighting spirit certainly must carry their share of the blame.

To combat these weaknesses, many interested fathers, including Dr. Bill Hilger, Dr. Roger Stark, and many others recently formed the Miramonte Boosters Club. The club and ourselves hope that parents and the community become more interested in the Miramonte sports program than was evidenced by the apparent attendance of some 20 parents at the Miramonte-Antioch game.

It seems to us that a few hard knocks on the football field or any other sport is as important in making a good citizen as a high scholastic standing. Too many parents worry more about physical injuries on a football field but never appear to worry about auto accidents. The kids at Miramonte are in there fighting, but they need help and lots of it.

It doesn't speak well for the school when there are bigger boys in the band than on the varsity football team.

All Miramonte needs to win is a larger team and a fighting spirit. The only way they can do this is to have the parents and the community (Orinda) interested in winning the games.

Our son, Bill, is a football team member.

GIRL SCOUTS

DEAR EDITOR:

We would like to call the attention of your readers to a new television program presented by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., in cooperation with NBC and the Educational Television and Radio Center, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

"Adventuring in the Hand Arts" is DIFFERENT—it is inspirational rather than a "how-to-do-it" series. The first broadcast was on Wednesday, October 29—NBC, New York, 6 to 6:30 p.m., EST. Films are to be made of the 10 live weekly broadcasts and are available to local NBC stations for release at convenient times.

"Adventuring in the Hand Arts" is a unique and delightful educational experience because it is one of the first television presentations of the part handcrafts have played in the growth and development of mankind.

We feel certain that parents, teachers, church and synagogue leaders, as well as those interested in Girl Scouts will welcome this program for youngsters and themselves.

If YOU will write a card to the local NBC station expressing YOUR interest in this program—WE and OUR CHILDREN will benefit from a program encompassing art, history and contemporary civilization.

Mrs. William J. Marshall

SPEEDER

DEAR EDITOR:

I live near St. Mary's Road and Glenside Drive. Last Sunday at just about 3 a.m., I was rudely awakened from a sound slumber by the roar of a speeding car that I thought was going through the bedroom. It sounded as if a racing car with no muffler was going 60 miles per hour in second gear. I couldn't go back to sleep, and for about 10 full minutes I could hear the car with the gears shifting droning around in the hills probably a mile away. (No doubt the idiot was delivering his girl to her home.)

This is about the third time in the last few months that this moron has done the same thing. I hate to think what would happen if someone, or something, suddenly appeared before the driver from out of the dark—and I get boiling mad all over when I think that someone could be me or a member of my family.

How this imbecile could go very far without being spotted by a deputy sheriff or the Highway Patrol I'll never know, but there's one thing sure—if I ever get my hands on this wise punk, whoever he is, he'll wish he took another route.

How Did This Area Vote? A Few Observations:

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Well, the election is over.

That is not a very sage observation but I don't have time to be bright today. Have time only to offer some off-the-cuff observations about the election. This is being written with some returns still incomplete; others are inaccurate.

The Baldwin-Jewel battle for the congressional seat will not be decided until 4,290 absentee ballots are counted next Thursday. Early last Wednesday it looked like Orinda's Jewel had won, but as your votes from Central Contra Costa (plus Solano votes) poured in, Baldwin forged ahead. The vote here was Baldwin—21,231; Jewel—9,544.

(Henceforth, when I refer to "central country" or "here" it will mean Orinda, Lafayette, Canyon, Moraga, St. Mary's, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Pleasant Hill. See first section for a breakdown by towns—courtesy News Editor Bob Rapida who worked through the night in Martinez tallying them.)

How the absentees vote?

The absentee votes should be in Baldwin's favor. State Senator George Miller said that usually Republicans take out more absentee ballots than the Demos. I think Baldwin will hold his lead. If he does, it is quite remarkable in the face of the county's tremendous democratic sweep. Except for Baldwin, not one Republican for any office won in Contra Costa.

Will the absentee votes change Walt Young's lead over Sheriff Harry Brown? In the county, there are about 3200 absentee ballots. A fair assumption is that these will be divided in the same proportion as Tuesday's election between the two. Thus, Young will probably be our next sheriff. This was certainly an upset and a lot of people are gloating. Most significant statement: Brown could have held this office for life if he had used his head.

Central county gave Sheriff Brown a 3,920 lead over Young. Every town here gave Brown a majority. Alamo, home of Brown, voted for him 1002 to 549. Lafayette, Young's hometown, voted in favor of Brown 3548 to 2362. Young's great strength came from the Richmond area; with up-county divided.

Ring-round-the-Rahn

Another amazingly close race is Rahn vs. Ring for judge, Walnut Creek Judicial District. Betsy Rahn looks like she is in with a 1150 to 1250 majority. Don't think the absentees will change this. (Remember, there can always be a big error in the unofficial returns—in any race.)

Mrs. Rahn was first in every town except Moraga and St. Mary's. It was very close in each town, except Walnut Creek, where Betsy led by 855.

Another tight race—Tom Coll edged Supervisor Ray Taylor, after 15 years on the board. Taylor won eight years ago by less than 400 votes and was due to be dumped but most observers didn't think Coll could do it.

While Contra Costa voted democratic, our central area stayed in the republican camp. Knowland was first, except in Pleasant Hill, Canyon and St. Mary's. Orinda and Lafayette gave Knowland heavy majorities.

Conti runs first here

Conti ran 5 to 3 over Waldie for assemblyman in central county but Waldie walked away in the rest of the county to win. Conti was first in every central town except Pleasant Hill and St. Mary's.

I just noted that Baldwin swamped Jewel in central county—23,000 to 9500. Baldwin was top in each town.

Marchus, elected county superintendent of schools, led in every central county town but not with heavy tallies. He won here by about 3000 votes.

Our community voted heavily against Prop. B—Transit District bonds, along with the rest of the county. This certainly helped defeat the issue. Interesting to note that Alameda County gave a majority to yes—but not a two thirds vote. The Two-County Transit District should think twice before submitting this bond issue again. Much more on this later.

Walnut Creek's Dick Mitchell won a majority in county but lost by 1100 when Alameda's precincts were counted for Transit District Director, Ward 1.

Was it a protest vote?

In the races for director of East Bay Municipal Utility District, the challengers (Luten and Bjornson) received a surprisingly heavy vote against incumbents Breuner and Saunders. I think this is a protest vote and the incumbents should take note.

It was a tough election for bond issues. The county bond issues for buildings didn't even come close. In fact, they were no by thousands. And Antioch defeated its bond issue to add 9 holes to its present 9-hole municipal golf course.

The county is going to have to do a better job of justifying its needs. And county officials are really worried because they plan to submit a county road bond issue in the future.

Well, there's much more to say but become your own political analyst. Analyze the figures in the front section. Have a good time.

Student Halloween Drive Helps Exchange Program

Acalanes students, member of the Don American Field Service Chapter, completed a successful pre-Halloween sortie of the Acalanes area community to collect $966 in their "Change for Exchange" drive.

Patterned after the traditional "trick or treat" system, but with a definite constructive goal in mind, Acalanes students combed the community to rease money to bring foreign students to Acalanes High again next year for one year's study in the Lafayetee high school.

One hundred students, acting under the direction of student area captains, toured Lafayette and its environs during the collection.

Students Madelaine Bryant, Mary Rambo, Kathy Brown and Kirk Whalen, Dan Funk and Doug Freeman were in charge of the drive. Following their successful door-to-door campaign students met in the Community Methodist Church in Lafayette for a "cider-doughnut" social hour.

Partially as a result of last year's drive, which raised $840, Jusuf Ismale of Indonesia and Toby Hefte of Norway are spending the 1958-59 school year at Acalanes.

Acalanes students Dan Funk and Donna Hunt visited Europe last summer as the American counterparts of the AFS student exchange program at the Lafayette high school.

Miss Ruth Dyer, social studies instructor, is faculty advisor to the group.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

The Sportsman's Club in Walnut Creek was bedecked with corn stalks, pumpkins, cats 'n bats, spider webs and other appropriate Halloween decorations Saturday night when the ever active Kiwanians entertained.

NOT surprisingly, the social committee claims that it has even more fun planning the affairs than attending them—if that could be possible. This year's committee is composed of Hal and Kay Apgar, Bill and Libby Charlesworth, Bill and Ann Diehl, Tommy and Kay Franklin, Lloyd and Betty King, Ken and Dorothy Lien, Bob and Hazel Moore, Dave and Nancy Purrington, Gene and Nancy Mortarotti and Don and Billie Campbell—the latter two appeared as "purple people eaters" at the party. The more than 70 members and guests ALL dressed a la ghosts, goblins, devils and such. Good refreshments, good music, GOOD time had by all!

It's pot luck supper time . . .

Marge and Harry Kindorf opened their Sun Valley home to a group of friends for a potluck dinner the week before with the Cliff Gambles, Baxter Kimbroughs, Tom Clarkes and Don Campbells in attendance. 'Twas such a lovely night that the men played badminton on the patio until the late hours while the gals enjoyed "hashing over" new styles, children, politics, etc.

All are connected with the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce so naturally one of the main topics of discussion was the forthcoming Formal Dance to be held November 29 at Sequoia Country Club.

Gladys and Jim Shierry have returned from spending five wonderful days at Las Vegas where they stayed at the Flamingo—had a scrumptious time sunning and swimming, seeing all of the shows and even worked in a few rounds of golf, both being avid fans.

Members of the Robin Unit of Concord are hard at work preparing for an annual rummage sale which will be held at the Bacon Block, 2053 Mt. Diablo Street in Concord today. Hours are from 9 to 5 and all of the proceeds will go to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Featured will be an assortment of bric-a-brac, clothing and even enough green carpeting for two rooms—complete with matting. Why don't you hop in your car and hightail it out there—for that is TODAY!

In these hustling, bustling days it was great fun, and relaxing too, to attend the always outstanding "Hustle Bustle" at the Orinda Country Club last Thursday. The golf-loving members who put this annual affair on are really the gals who "Know How." It is amazing to see how many completely costumed and eager participants turn out at 8:30 in the morning—first gathering for a hearty breakfast and then teeing off in the most hilarious outfits. The early morning setting was the "Golden Nugget Saloon"—one of the club's dining rooms re-decorated — authentically duplicating Barbary Coast days and decor.

The atmosphere was an especially cozy one due to the thick, early fog which pressed against the windows. Red and white checked mats and kerosene lamps looked warm and gay on the many tables for four. Where DID they find those old, old posters advertising "The Great Train Robbery" and many other old-time movies?

Even rocks and nuggets, yet

A large, lighted, glass case held a truly fabulous collection of rocks and nuggets and burnished, copper miners' pans glowed here and there. The music of an old player piano tinkled in the background—almost, but not QUITE, drowned out by the chattering, happy ladies. There were so many clever costumes—one trio, composed of Madge Johnson, Mary Scammel and Dot Baughman, dressed in authentic, ancient Chinese regalia—complete with pigtails.

Three 49er miners, Judy Jostes, Reba Kilgo and Lillian Ayers, were comical as they followed a "living doll," gorgeous Geri McGlynn, about. Geri was THE dance hall girl in fuchsia and plum taffeta and velvet, black lace hose and a red wig be-decked with huge plumed bonnet. Perhaps the most unglamorous (and having the most fun) were Marion Brooks, Ann Graffia, Jinny Carter and Joan Calder who looked pleasingly AWFUL in old fashioned men's knitted bathinng suits—no shape, hanging to the knees and, of course, faded. Also faded were the gosh-awful men's hats they donned. Just the opposite were Joyce Carter, Jean Downs, Ruth McIntyre and Donna Skaggs who had spent hours making completely feminine bloomer-girl outfits. They wore white ruffled blouses, full white bloomers, black and white printed vests which were laced at the waist, black hose, white tennis shoes and they had all drawn their long pony tails with bright scarlet bows. Adorable foursome!

All kinds of costumes, too

Then there was Thelma Sweet who truly depicted a "dealer" and was probably the busiest person there—especially with adding the scores before luncheon. Marcylin Martin, Betty Bergen and Marie Thompson were kind of "trampish-cowboys." Enough of descriptions—others spotted completing the morning by lunching in the "Pine Room" were Gen Maloney, Carolyn McElhenny, Ellie Sharp, Marie Monahan, Bobbie McGuire and Bea Commerford.

Next big affair at the club will be the Big Game dinner dance—informal this year. Many members will go to the game via the club buses following a mid-morning brunch.

Ruth and Hap Magee have just returned (Ruth is busy at the reception desk at the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center as I write this—a volunteer each week from the Mary Doyle Unit) from a trip to Nevada. Most of their vacation was spent at "Monitor Valley" which is just outside of Tonopah, Nevada) where they hunted for deer—had good luck, too!

The Magees also visited at Ruth's father's ranch near Yerington and especially enjoyed participating in Carson City's "Admission Day Fiesta"—admission day for Nevada, that is. A wonderfully colorful and gay affair, from all reports. Sunday afternoon at 4 beautiful-blondeful Gail Barnum of Lafayette and William Taylor of Oregon became Mr. and Mrs. T.

Her bridal gown was of heavy white satin and the full train was especially long. Gail's maid of honor was her sister, Kathie, and all three attendants were a true delight to lovers of the new high styles. From tip to toe the shade was coral, the material, chiffon (slippers and headbands of satin)—the sheaths beautifully moulded "afore" and flowingly paneled "aft."

All of the gentlemen—including Gail's handsome father, looked THAT suave in black morning coats, grey westcoats and grey pinstriped trousers. Mrs. Barnum looked petitley elegant in an ecru satin sheath with cocoa accessories and brown orchids and Mrs. Taylor wore soft powder blue lace with orchid-orchids.

All of the wedding guests were invited to the Louis E. Barnum home on Springhill Road for a gala reception. A weekend honeymoon was spent in the city at the Mark Hopkins Hotel for Bill "reported for duty" at Cal on Monday where he resumed his studies. The Taylors will live in Berkeley for the present.

Scouting Helps Girls Become Good Americans

By MRS LLOYD FISHER

A part of almost every little girl's dream is to become a Girl Scout and there are many who fulfill that dream.

Being a part of Girl Scouting is such a nice way for a little girl to start her growing years, to build a sturdy base for her future life, to be part of an American tradition.

Such is the story of a group of small girls, who almost seven years ago, donned their spanking new uniforms with pride, and with Mother and Dad in tow, set forth for the meeting where they received their first pins.

AND NOW nearly seven years later and five girls fewer, this same group of girls again donned their not-so-new uniforms and cajoled at least one of their "very busy" parents to attend a "Court of Awards" on the following night and set forth for an overnight trip at the Girl Scout Day Camp.

That is the story of Troop No. 229, a busy, dedicated and happy group of Diablo Valley Girl Scouts who, under the leadership Jean Doran have been together of Mrs. Desma Payne and Mrs. constantly since their Brownie days.

This, in our busy hectic world is unique and much credit goes to Mrs. Payne, their leader who teaches school at Walnut Heights School during the day and gives at least one full evening a week to her "Scouts."

Micky Doran, Heather McLaughlin, Jan Olson, Margaret Payne, Laura Picone and Kathy Strong received their "Curved Bar Award" and four other badges at the Court of Awards after an overnight trip at Twin C a n y o n, located at Buckeye Ranch in Lafayette.

AFTER A DINNER of Indian-style fresh corn and thick steaks, the girls serenaded a troop of younger Girl Scouts who were camped near by.

Mothers, fathers, younger sisters and brothers and relatives made up the large group on the following night. They sat around the large bonfire and viewed one of the most colorful Court of Awards of the year. After the pins were awarded, Troop 229 members lifted their voices in song as did the entire gathering, and in the moon-lit darkness of dying embers, the canyon echoed the refrain.

This is the story of Troop No. 229 — and the story of many such troops which have been wonderful for thousands of American girls who are nearing womanhood.

Mars is Topic For Astronomical Group Meeting

Clarion Cochran, an amateur astronomer and member of the Mt. Diablo Astronomical Society will give an illustrated lecture on the planet Mars, tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Diablo Valley College Room 4B, of the East Contra Costa Junior College District.

Cochran has built and equipped his own observatory in Clayton Valley. His domed building houses an 8 inch refracting telescope, capable of "seeing" faint astromical objects many light years distant.

He has adapted the telescope for earth satellite observation.

When the Vanguard satellite, recently "escaped" its observers, Cochran was able to see the tiny object in his telescope when it was a distance of nearly 1750 miles from earth.

He will show slides of his own observation of Mars when it was at its closet point of approach.

He will also discuss the geography, atmospheric conditions and the physics of the planet.

A presentation of the thories regarding the possibility of life on Mars should prove interesting to his audience.

A short business meeting of the Mt. Diablo Astronomical Society will precede the lecture. The meeting and lecture is open to the public.

Symphony To Play

Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical adaptation of C. Y. Lee's Flower Drum Song opened to rave notices in Boston last week. Its scheduled opening on Broadway, the first week in December, has already been greatly herladed.

Andre Kostelanetz, who will again conduct the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra in 4 Special Saturday Evening Concerts at the Opera House this forthcoming season, chalks up another first in scheduling the San Francisco Premiere Performance of "Highlights" from the Flower Drum Song for his first concert, Saturday, January 10.

On the same program Rachmaninoff selections will be featured, and the young American pianist, John Browning, will play the composer's Piano Concerto No. 2 in C Minor.

'Belles' Will Aid Mental Health Work

"World Mental Health Year" will be observed during 1960. Plans for the formation of an Auxiliary to enable expansion of the program of the Mental Health Association of Central Contra Costa, a United Crusade Agency, were announced by President Mrs. Hans Wendel of Lafayette She spoke at tea held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lindsay at Seven Hills Ranch today.

The international observance will be sponsored by the World Federation for Mental Health composed of 103 associations in 43 countries and 7 trans-national associations, Mrs. Wendel announced.

Guest speaker at the tea was Dr. Albert Kostlan, chief psychologist at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Oakland.

"There is a total of 750,000 mental patients in hospitals throughout the country. This is comparable to all other illnesses combined, making mental health undebatedly the No. 1 health problem in our nation," Dr. Kostlan told the more than 60 guests.

Mrs. Catherine Long, executive director of the Association, explained the need for local services for the mentally and emotionally ill.

She stated that the Auxiliary will be called "The Belles"—adopted from the national symbol of the Association—the Mental Health Bell.

Holiday Seal Orders Now Being Taken

Early orders for Christmas Seals will be accepted by the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association for Christmas packages and letters going overseas.

Dr. C. J. Hart, Christmas Seal Sale chairman of the local TB Association, announced today that the seals are available for those wishing them in advance of the seal sale mailing date next Friday.

The Post Office Department has designated the period November 1 to November 20 for mailing Christmas parcels overseas," said Dr. Hart.

"This will give friends and family members overseas another tradtional tie-in with their home and loved ones. Those overseas will also have the gratifying feeling that the Christmas Seal continues to wage the battle to protect all homes from tuberculosis."

Toastmasters Declare War

The breakfast Toastmasters Club of Walnut Creek recently played "War Games". Dr. Walt Taylor served as "general" and L. Anderson was his referee.

Taylor said, "It was a war on 'ahs' which creep into most speeches and conversations during a hesitation or lull in thought."

Toastmaster Jim Schaaf, a chemical scientist, organized the program.

Art Adams, his first speaker and the club's first vice president, read a speech recently given at the Commonwealth Club by Evangelist Billy Graham.

Walt Felt, the immediate past president, gave an account of the abilities that can be developed by attending Toastmasters.

'Retarded' Council To Hold Christmas Bazaar

The annual Christmas Bazaar of the Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County will be held November 14-15, at the Veterans Memorial Building, 1250 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Bazaar hours will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on November 14, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., on November 15.

Mrs. Lloyd is bazaar chairman. Assisting her and the Council are ladies of six organizations — Alamo Women's Club, Countess Club of Danville, Beta Sigma Phi, Castle Hill Sewing Club, Pan Club and Twelve-Fifteen Club, and Clipped Wings Club.

AMONG the hand-made items on sale will be aprons, doll beds, puppets, toys, doll clothes, woodcraft articles, needlework, Christmas gift items, and homemade cakes, cookies, jellies, pies, candy at the country store booth.

There will be a white elephant booth, and for the entertainment of the children, the fish pond is a popular feature.

Mrs. Reggie Rice of the American Legion Post 115 has been named chairman of the refreshment booth. A luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. both days.

The proceeds from the bazaar will benefit the Lynn School in Danville and the Lynn Training Center in Walnut Creek which have been established by the Council for the education and training of mentally retarded children and young adults.

THE BAZAAR marks the fourth anniversary of the Council which has helped retarded children at its two schools.

The children receive individual as well as group training. The Council's program is geared to fit each individual childs needs.

Coordination, reading, personal hygiene, self expression, speech therapy and social graces are all a part of the program at the Lynn School, which enrolls children from three to eight years of age and offers a morning and an afternoon session under the guidance of teacher Miss Winifred Johnson.

The Lynn training center for teenagers and young adults in Walnut Creek provides vocational, social, and learning activities under director Mrs. Carol Lewis.

CAR POOLS have been formed from the Antioch, Pittsburg, Concord, Walnut Creek, and Lafayette areas. Mothers are expected to cooperate one day weekly and share in the driving if possible.

Both schools have openings for additional students. Parents of retarded children who would like to become acquainted with the advantages offered in such training are urged to contact the school chairman, Mrs. Ray Doyle, 104 Bay View Avenue, Pittsburg, or Miss Winifred Johnson at the Lynn School in Danville.

Volunteer help is still needed at the two schools and especially for the transportation of youngsters to and from the schools.

Those who would like to assist may contact either Mrs. Doyle or Miss Johnson.

Adult Program Growing Says Dambacher

A recent count of the current registrations in the adult education program conducted by Acalanes High School district showed a total of 1850 adults attending one or more of the 65 courses being offered, announced A. D. Dambacher, director of the local program.

"This is an increase of more than 200 over last year's enrollment and is an indication that local interest in adult education is following the state wide and national trends," Dambacher stated.

"A particular strong interest has developed in the high school diploma program. Over 60 adults are taking classes to meet requirements for graduation from the Acalanes Evening High School," he said.

"In spite of the increase in enrollment the district policy of having the adult program be self-sustaining is being continued with the result that no local tax money is required to pay the instructional expenses of maintaining the program," Dambacher concluded.

Prep Pennant at Stake Tonight

Championship Depends on Knight-Highlander Game

The Las Lomas Knights and the Piedmont Highlanders were pre-season picks to battle it out for the mythical pennant in the first year Foothill Division League and they proved to be right as the two clubs meet tonight and both are undefeated to date.

It's the final game for Las Lomas and Piedmont is hardly likely to be upset by Miramonte in their final next week, so the winner here appears to be in.

Both have met one common league foe — Acalanes, Piedmont won two weeks ago, 25-0, while Las Lomas won, 20-13 in a thriller last Friday night at Acalanes.

BARRING A South Sea storm, the game is bound to be played before standing room only.

The Knights boast a heavy, experienced club that has an impressive record—undefeated to date. They will hold a good weight advantage—but will have to cope with Piedmont's speed which could give them trouble — the Dons proved that last week.

One interesting battle could be between the two fullbacks who are key players but different types. Piedmont's sophomore, Bobby Jones at 170 is a speed burner and a hard man to catch.

Senior Clark Ransome at 195 for Las Lomas is a power runner who to date has been the come-through player for the Knights.

THE KNIGHTS have a good long-passing quarterback in Don Hopkins, while Piedmont Coach Bob Muenter feels his quarterback, Steve Wilcox, is the best passer in the Bay Area.

It will be a game of power versus speed. The Highlanders have lost one practice tilt in an upset loss to Alhambra High of Martinez when the Knights toppled rather easily—that's the story to date. The last chapter will be added tonight.

In the other Foothill League game Acalanes meets Miramonte. Orinda will be the home club, but the game will be played under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field.

MIRAMONTE has yet to score, let alone win, a varsity game. The Dons have had a difficult time hitting the win column themselves with their lone win a 27-6 upset of Pacifica.

They have given a good account of themselves in all games but one—the Piedmont tilt where they hit a low ebb.

The Miramonte Matadors, on the other hand, have had a difficult time getting out of low gear, as the scores have for the most part been lopsided. If they are going to win one this is probably their best chance as they face Piedmont next week in the season's finale.

The Dons pose a new threat with Mike Kritscher and Jim Walker in the backfield. In addition, Bob Marello, a regular half, returns after being out for two weeks. He has speed and is a breakaway threat.

THE PLEASANT HILL Rams return to play tonight, seeking their first league win in the Contra Costa League when they play up and coming Antioch at Mt. Diablo High field.

The Antioch club has been coming steady and will be anything but a setup.

The Rams have been anything but setups all season long. Loaded with sophomores and juniors, they gave Pittsburg a real go and then played a 13-13 tie last Friday with favored Diablo.

THE RAMS have good size and speed—Antioch has been coming fast but this is one where reserves could play a big part and the Rams have a deep squad.

Hard-running Ram fullback Roger Foulk, along with such speedy backs as Roger Leonard, Tom Webb and Sid Quick, give them an offensive punch.

The San Ramon Wolves draw a bye tonight in Foothill League play.

All games are set for 8 p.m.

LAST SCORING threat of Acalanes Dons was stopped last Friday when center Jim Foreman (48) of Las Lomas intercepted pass. Running interference for him is 250-pound tackle Dave Weill (49). On defense for Acalanes are guard Jim Holden (62) and halfback Jim Walker (70).

Rams Spring Surprise; Battle Devils to Tie

The Pleasant Hill Rams entered the Diablo game as anything but favorites last Friday night but when the returns were in, the Devils found themselves outgained in yardage statistics and forced to rely on long passes to emerge with a 13-13 draw.

The Rams pounded out a touchdown in the second quarter after a scoreless first period. Starting on their own 41, a line buck brought the ball to the 32 and then fullback Roger Foulk found daylight over left guard and scampered the distance. The conversion try missed.

DIABLO CAME back to score in the second quarter when quarterback Lee Grichuhin hit end Dean Deaton with a 25-yard pass to the five, from where he stepped over the important goal line.

The drive covered 64 yards and was temporarily bogged down at one stage by a 15-yard penalty until the "fatal pass."

Gary Robeson kicked the extra point to give the Devils a 7-6 lead which they held at halftime.

Foulk proved to be the Rams' big gun again in the third quarter. Pleasant Hill smashed 47 yards in six plays to the Diablo six. Foulks crashed over tackle to score and then came back to run the ball over the important point, number 13, to give the Rams a 13-7 lead.

THE RAMS appeared to be on their way to an insurance touchdown late in the fourth quarter when they rested on Diablo's 9-yard line on second down, but an incomplete pass, a five-yard loss, and a missed field goal try from the 18 that fell short went for naught.

Diablo rose to the occasion by going the 80 yards from their own 20 in four plays. Three plays brought the ball to Diablos 33 and then Griuchin cocked his right arm and let fly with an aerial that hit end Deaton on the Rams' 22 and he took the pigskin in stride to score standing up.

THE DEVILS blew their chance for the win when they lined up with but 10 players and the 11th on his way from the conversion try. It was a five-yard penalty and the kick from the seven missed.

The Rams had a 3-7 edge in first downs and a real edge in rushing, 245 yards to 85. Gary Casey paced the Diablo backs with 36 yards on six tries while the Ram quarterback, Jim Maples, carried the ball 115 yards in 16 carries while Foulk gained 109 yards in 20 tries.

The Rams hit for 29 yards through the air, completing four for seven. Diablo had five for 12 and 148 yards. Linesman Walt Dathe, Mike Ryan and Butch Crowder drew attention with their fine play.

Boat Club Drive For Membership Is Now Underway

The membership drive for the Concord Boat Club is open for new members.

Anyone with a boat wishing to join may phone Commander Jim Borges. There will be no membership fee during the drive. Anyone in Contra Costa area is invited.

The Concord Boat Club meets the first Wednesday of every month, at its new dry docks (club house) at 1944 Grant St.

All of the members turned out last month for general clean-up and painting, of the Club house. With everything ship-shape, the club held its first meeting at the new location, with a pot-luck dinner.

At the last meeting, the agenda for the coming winter months were discussed. Arm-chair cruises, pot-lucks, progressive dinners, movies, dances and speakers, were a few of the activities planned.

Grid Season Nears End; Basketball Coming Up

By ERWIN MATTSON

The football season is on the wane as the preps wind up next week, but the big one will be tonight for local fans when Las Lomas hosts Piedmont. The winner here will win the pennant.

It's a case of power versus speed with Las Lomas representing the power. It's the game of the week so if you are interested you had better go early as there will be standing room only.

Basketball is standing by ready to take over as they opened practice this week.

Last Tuesday nite the mentors flocked to John Swett High of Crockett where close to 75 attended a basketball clinic by Pete Newell. Instruction for the most part covered defense and little time was given to the offensive game.

Newell stressed that coaching is work and lots of it. He also pointed out that one should have an open mind to new ideas and that it was important to keep up on new ideas.

The local turnouts have been limited due to the fact football is still on the go. It will give coaches a good chance to look their material over and on paper it looks as though the competition will be keen in the Foothill Division.

Las Lomas is loaded with veterans as is Miramonte while Acalanes has a good bunch of veterans plus a top looking transfer.

San Ramon and Piedmont are pretty much unknown quantities. A new gym at San Ramon and a new coach at Piedmont should give both clubs a lift so it looks like a merry season.

Results will begin coming in the later part of the month when practice sessions get under way.

PH Frost---Just Like Oklahoma!

"Oklahoma got beat last year," was Pleasant Hill frosh coach Tom Webb's comment after the Baby Rams were beaten by the Mt. Diablo yearlings on October 30 on the Devils' field.

Webb's frosh ended their season yesterday with a contest against the Alhambra Bulldogs on the Martinez turf.

According to Webb the frosh played a real good defensive game against Diablo with Chuck Bray and Larry Parkhurst receiving special mention.

Mike Jones accounted for both Devil scores on runs of three and 15 yards. "If it had not been for a couple of mistakes we could have won the ball game," stated Webb.

Fellowship Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of the National Christian Educators' Fellowship was held yesterday at the Lafayette Covenant Church, 925 Moraga Road.

All educators in this area are most welcome to attend, according to Mr. David M. Rogers, Area President, and principal of Walnut Creek Elementary School.

The NCEF is an established organization in the nation.

The local group has been in operation for one year. Officers include Mrs. Charlotte Spencer, vice-president, teacher at Parkmead School, and Mrs. Berneice Woolridge, secretary-treasurer, music consultant for the Walnut Creek School District.

The Miramonte Matadors posted an 18-37 win in a cross-country meet with San Ramon High last week to remain undefeated in league meets and with the win went the league dual meet championship.

Dons Scare Knights, But Las Lomas Comes Through

The Acalanes Dons were underdogs when they played the Las Lomas Knights last Friday nite but came within seconds of a 13-13 tie only to go down 20-13 with the final big point coming within 25 seconds on the Acalanes clock.

The Dons came up with a surprise backfield with Don Nelson at quarterback, Mike Kritscher and Jim Walker at halves along with Jack Carman in the flanker back spot.

Kritscher up to last week had played quarterback with Walker a converted tackle. The Dons ripped up yardage all night long.

The Dons drew first "blood" when they took the ball on their own 35 and in nine plays went to the Knights four from where Walker boomed over right tackle and Nelson made it 7-0 when he skirted right end for the conversion point.

LAS LOMAS came back and put on a 60 yard swing drive up their own with halfback Steve Moore passing to end Dick Dodge for the touchdown.

Fullback Clark Ransome split the uprights with the conversion boot to make it 7 all.

Charging hard and with Walker and Kritscher doing the ball carrying the Dons put on another drive as they took the lead again in the second quarter when Nelson scored from 2 yards out as a quarterback option, climaxing a 56 yard drive that consumed 10 plays. Highlight of the drive was a 40 yard pass from Carman to end Dewaine Stults.

Walker was stopped at the line on the conversion try and the half ended with Acalanes in front 13-7.

In the third quarter the Knights put on a 45 yard drive with fullback Clark Peinsone doing most of the work and he put on the finishing touch when he scored from a yard out.

WALKER BROKE through tackle to block the conversion kick and the score was knotted 13-13 which is the way it stayed until late in the fourth quarter with four minutes on the clock and Acalanes in possession on their own thirty. A try at the line by Walker went for no gain.

Nelson faded back on an attempted screen pass on the second down and it backfired when end Bob Gomez intercepted for Las Lomas and came back to the Dons 30.

Three plays found the Knights short of a first down and then a pass by halfback Steve Moore which was ruled complete on pass interference on the Dons' one. Twenty five seconds showed when Ransome plunged over the middle to score and then he kicked the extra point to make it 20-13.

The Dons took the ensuing kickoff and put on an aerial show but it fell short when time ran out with the ball in midfield.

The game was a show all the way with hard running, hard blocking and if possilbe harder tackling the order of the day.

Clark Ransome with his come-through running at crucial times and converison was the Knights' ace.

Illness Cuts St. Mary's Hoop Squad

With the basketball season a little over a month away, some unhappy news was announced today by Jim Weaver, coach of the Saint Mary's College Galloping Gaels.

Three potential top players, Erv Blue, Greg Johnston, and Joe Monson, are out for the season on doctor's orders and in addition, Larry Brennan has been put out of commission by the medics until the end of November.

Blue (6.1), a junior from San Francisco, was one of last year's regulars and was slated for a top forward position by Weaver. Discovery of a heart condition has probably ruined his chances of playing competitive basketball for all time.

A recurring knee injury has once again sidelined Monson (6.2), standout Frosh player of two seasons back. For the second year in a row, at the beginning of the practice period he twisted his knee and is out of contention.

Greg Johnston (6.0). originally from Bishop O'Dowd High School in Oakland, came up to the Varsity from last year's undefeated Frosh team. An auto accident last week injured his knee and doctors ordered him off the floors.

Brennan (6.1), number six man on last year's varsity, sprained his ankle during practice, but will rejoin his teammates.

Commenting on the injuries, Weaver said: "The loss of Blue, Brennan, Monsno and Johnston raises some questions that I'll have to find answers for before we open against Sacramento State on December 1. With an opening signup of 16 men, this reduces the squad to 12 and while we would eventually have to do some cutting, this is not the way we'd like to go about it."

Women Golfers Post Scores

Scores posted by women of the Diablo Country Club at their "Fun Day' were as follows:

San Ramon Wolves Dump Miramonte By Score of 39-0

The San Ramon Wolves had little trouble last Friday night as they chalked up their first league win with a comfortable 39-0 margin over the hapless Miramonte Matadors, who have as yet to win.

Playing on the Danville field, the Wolves threw up a sturdy defense that kept the visitors in their own half of the field most of the game.

The Wolves, on the other hand, had ball control from the opening whistle, rolling to four touchdowns and adding two conversion points in the opening quarter to make it 26-0.

ANOTHER SEVEN points was added in the second quarter, along with six in the third to post a final 39 as neither team scored in the final period.

Big guns in the San Ramon attack were halfback Rick Strachan, who tallied twice on runs of 56 and 13 yards.

Craig Lindgren hit for six points on a five-yard burst over tackle, Pete Demos carried the pigskin for 10 yards to score, while teammate Bill Humphrey did the same from nine yards out.

THE OTHER touchdown came on a pass-run from Gary Johnson to Mike Oaks that was good for 45 yards.

The conversion points came when Oaks hit for one and Kent Evans found the range with two coversion boots.

The Wolves dominated the game as they rolled to 15 first downs and 325 yards.

A long pass late in the final period brougth the Matadors their closest to the promised land when they reached the San Ramon 20.

Park Council Hears How Santa Clara County Does It

"Translating ideals into action to build a county park system" was the subject for 75 citizens, community leaders and park officials last week as they met at the Diablo Country Club for the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council's sixth annual dinner.

William Drake, Canyon, who was elected council president, said, "Why do we want parks? Because we don't want to end up living in an asphalt jungle. We want a metropolis that has lungs to breathe.

"We are people who want green outdoor living space. We are people who believe that even if it takes 10 to 20 years, the effort is worth it."

OTHER OFFFICERS elected were Vice Presidents William Penn Mott Jr., Mrs. Mildred Winslow, both of Orinda; Jerome Kohl, Kensington; Alvin A. Burton, James Hokanson of Concord; Dr. H. G. Lowenstein, Pittsburg; Secretary Mrs. M. J. Clune, Walnut Creek; and Treasurer E. W. Koskinen, Concord.

Bob Amyx, director of Parks and Recreation for Santa Clara County, spoke. He told how a county goes about obtaining parks.

"Citizens and officials must recognize that park planning, acquisition, operation, and development is an essential and legitimate functon of county government to take its place among other functions," he said.

"First, determine the need. If we agree on the need, and that the need is increasing, the county responds."

Amyx outlined eleven steps, listed at follows:

1. ESTABLISH a Parks and Recreation Commission by ordinance, with duties, authorities, and limitations specified.

2. Along with that establish the position of Parks and Recreation director, with duties, authority, and relation to authorities also specified. "The park planner is a technician. It is the director who must translate the plan into action," Amy said.

"He is necessary in Contra Costa County now, at your level of park development. A top level man at $10,000 a year minimum would save the county money. Already nine counties in California have a Park and Recreational director," he said.

3. Establish policies under which to set up a park and recreation system. In Santa Clara County they include limitation to facilities suitable for countywide or regional service—to those not feasible for local school districts or municipalities, cultural, historical, and natural beauty functions, joint regional planning with other counties.

4. TAKE INTO account relationship to other agencies to avoid duplications: cities, other counties, and the state.

5. Special interest groups can be very helpful, but must be watched. "If the number of people served is too small or the cost too great, it is not a legitimate expense," said Amyx.

6. Determine the economic ability of the county to pay.

7. Consider man-made parks for active use as well as natural ones. Consider changing attitudes of users of park facilities.

8. SET UP criteria for area selection. Include areas already owned by public agencies—county, water districts, federal domain or surplus lands. Consider gift lands. "Legal arrangements may be made for life estate with tax privileges, and the county gets the property at time of death." Natural areas are needed.

"Natural areas must have a high percentage of usable land, with water, vegetation, sewage, drainage," Amyx said. "Remember you need for parks all that you need for a subdivision." Consider also accessibility and geographic distribution.

9. Set up a comprehensive Master Plan.

10. Convert the plan to action. In Santa Clara, the county is now accepting a 10 million dollar program.

11. Prepare a time schedule. List projects, uses, costs, and recommended method of financing.

"THE SIMPLEST thing is to do it logically," Amyx concluded. "Set up a plan, follow it step by step, according to a schedule. You will make Contra Costa a more pleasant place in which to live.'

Elected to the board of directors of the council were Dave Allen, David Bortin, John Bryant, Bruce Chamberlin, Mrs. C. L. Coppia, Mrs. Philomena Drake, Ray Drayer, Russell Grater, Mrs. Pearl Grimes, Robert Graves, Ernest Henderson.

Alymer Hussey, James Hupp, Dr. Ralph Hall, Mrs. Florence Klinger, Mrs. Charles E. Keathley, Edward I. Kotok, Mrs. Jefferson Larkey, Mrs. Mary Leuba, John Logunetz.

D. L. Mitchell, Mrs. E. J. Martin, Dr. Curtis L. Newcombe, Ferdinand Ruth, Dr E. C. Stone, William Stone, Mrs. Harriet Schaffran, Mrs. Martha Seba, Richard Stockwell, Miss Jacqueline Watkins, Stewart Wade, Larry Williams and Dorr Yeager.

Dr. E. C. Stone of the University of California was chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Mildred Winslow was in charge of arrangements for the dinner. She was assisted by Mrs. William Drake and Mrs. F. J. Clune.

INSPECTION OF PARK AREAS they consider as necessary to Contra Costa County's future development is made during an annual dinner of the County Park and Recreation Council. Consulting the map are, left to right, Dr. E. C. Stone, dinner chairman; Mrs. Mildred Winslow, Council vice president; Bob Amyx, Santa Clara County director of parks and recreation, and William Drake, Council president.

Dinner-Dance Is Tomorrow

Pied Piper Play Center's board members are hostessing a "Get-acquainted" pot-luck dinner and dance for the school's mother and father members tomorrow at the Alamo Women's Club.

The biggest attraction will be the absence of the work committees so typical of a co-operative nursery school activity. This being taken over by the board.

Also on the agenda for the parents is the meeting where group discussions of child care problems will be the program. A report will be given by each group at the close of the meeting.

Not to be outdone by their elders, the school's students recently visited the Wood Farm, on Tassajara Road, now run by Mr. George Wood, nephew of Miss Charlotte Wood, senior citizen of the Danville area.

The farm has been owned and operated by the Wood family for 97 years and is, as Mr. Wood said, definitely a working farm.

Because of this it provided a perfect opportunity for the pre-schoolers to see typical farm animals and how they are cared for.

Added fun for the children last month was the annual Halloween costume party with the usual assortment of Indians, cowboys, etc. making their appearance.

Highway Patrol Issues Warning

"It is better to yield than to take the right-of-way."

So commented Captain Russel R. Magill, commander of the California Highway Patrol area today in discussing driving faults that usually have disastrous effects.

"Violation of the right-of-way provisions of the vehicle code is second only to excessive speed as the cause of traffic accidents," Captain Magill continued.

"Probably the most frequent violation of right-of-way occurs at intersections that have neither traffic signals nor stop signs.

"Highway patrol records show that during 1957 more than half of the collisions at intersections were between vehicles entering the intersection from an angle. Someone failed to yield the right-of-way in all of these accidents," he said.
